LOCAL NEWS.

A cross-mark on your paper shows that your subscription has expired or is due. In either case you are respectfully requested to remit and renew your subscription at once.

Judge Swango and wife are visiting at Mt. Sterling, Lexington and Frankfort.

Rev. W. L. Gevedon, a Baptist minister, preached at the Methodist Church in this place last Sunday.

D. H. Lawton and J. L. Gilbert, representing Baltimore houses were guests of the Day House last Monday.

Prof. Erb filled the pulpit at the Christian Church in this place last Sunday morning, it being his regular appointment.

Hiram Hogg, of Booneville, Deputy Collector for this Internal Revenue District, was a guest of the Day House last Thursday night.

Howerton Bros., the enterprising millers of this place, have just purchased a new portable saw mill, and will make their first set at Mariba, in Menifee county.

Miss Jettie Allen, of Lebanon, Ky., has been engaged as music teacher for Hazel Green Academy. She arrived here last Wednesday, and on Monday last opened a class in music.

More cattle passed through here last week than ever before in the same time, and if good prices are obtained, there will be lots of money brought back to the mountains. Will we get any of it? Alas, time only will tell.

Read the card of John H. Evans, Examiner of Depositions for Wolfe county, which appears in this issue. Mr. Evans is the only examiner in this locality, and those having business in his line should give him their patronage.

J. T. and F. Day last Thursday started a bunch of eighty-five cattle from this place to the Mt. Sterling market. They were mostly three and four year olds, and about the best lot of feeders ever driven from this section.

Rev. J. T. Piaratt, of this place, preached at Old Grassy Church last Saturday and Sunday to good congregations. He recently held a very interesting meeting at Long Branch, and some six or seven persons joined the church.

N. H. Trimble found it so nice in Withitsa, Kansas, that he bought more property and telegraphed Bob to come and help him. Bob left Sunday and will remain several weeks, Nelson is expected home this week.—Sentinel-Democrat.

Wm. Wells, formerly of this place and father of Mrs. Lucinda Ingram, who has been living at Hinesborough, Ill., for several years, died at that place on the 9th inst. He leaves many relatives and friends in this section to mourn his death.

Hindoo Kidney Cordial, manufactured by Patton Bros., Catlettsburg, Ky., is the best kidney remedy ever introduced. Having tried several of them without relief, we tried Hindoo and found it the best. It is sold by all Hazel Green stores.

Sheriff G. T. Center, of Campton, the most enterprising man in Wolfe county, perhaps, paid Hazel Green a short visit last Thursday. He is figuring on the plans and specifications of the new Pleasant Home, with a view of taking the contract to build it.

Take one of Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills at night before you go to bed and you will be surprised how buoyant and vigorous you will feel the next day. Only 25 cents a vial. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campton.

Sam. J. Salzer, formerly of West Liberty, will next week locate in Winchester to practice law. He is a talented young man of fine moral and social qualities, and is a good acquisition to our community. We cheerfully commend Mr. Salzer to the people of Clark county.—Sentinel-Democrat.

To cure Rheumatic or other pains, take a piece of felt flannel, saturate it well with Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, bind it round the limb, or wherever the pain is, and place over it a hot iron, or hold to the fire, so as to apply as much heat as possible. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campton.

Here, you fellows who promised to be prompt and pay us when we called upon you, if we would take chickens, potatoes, etc., etc., it is about time you were bringing in your "truck and turn over." You certainly do not want to read the paper and withhold the pay you honestly owe for it until we starve to death for lack of it, do you? Dead men don't eat.

By reference to the advertisement in this issue headed "Administrator's Notice," it will be seen that Squire A. B. Landrum, as administrator of the estate of A. J. Cox, deceased, will be at Campton March 7th, Hazel Green March 16th, and at Maytown March 17th. He requests all owing the estate to meet him on that day at the places designated and make settlement.

The quality of the blood depends much upon good or bad digestion and assimilation; to make the blood rich in life and strength giving constituents, use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier; it will nourish the properties of the blood from which the elements of vitality are drawn. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campton.

Wm. Walker, who says he was raised in Breathitt county, writes us from Hazel, Madison county Arkansas, and encloses a list of public lands in that State which may be had for the settling. The list, however, is too voluminous for our columns at present. Moreover, we have recently discovered an Eldorado here in Eastern Kentucky. Right here in Hazel Green, in fact, where everybody can have a home and make a good living if they will only "learn to labor and to wait!"

EASTERN KENTUCKY POSTOFFICES.

They Need Investigation and Regulation.

The mail from Mt. Sterling last Friday night brought us the Owingville Outlook dated Jan. 20, the Cincinnati Enquirer dated Jan. 21, the Frankfort Capital dated Jan. 22, and the Lexington Press dated Jan. 23. Now, in the name of justice and right, we rise to ask where have these papers been all this while? We give you up, but there is no excuse for such work, and the postmasters are alone to blame. The mail rider comes through from Rothwell Station every day, Sundays excepted, and should bring all the mail. One of three things prevent it. The postmasters are either ignorant of their duty, incompetent for the fulfillment of it, or hold it back for pure cussedness. In either event they should be required to "step down and out," that their places may be filled by men who will do their duty. When a man accepts the position of postmaster or a contract to carry the mail he is sworn to perform the duties pertaining thereto, and failing to do so he violates his oath. Just as soon as he fails to comply with his contract the Government should oust him and put in an agent who will do his duty. We hope the Postoffice Inspector will investigate the state of affairs here mentioned and have the evil remedied. If a paper, a circular, or a letter be mailed to a person, postage prepaid, that person should receive it as early as may be. If the Government purposes to protect people in their rights under the postoffice laws, then the Government should see that it is done, or make the guilty postmaster pay the penalty in a forfeiture of his position.

Our Last Stock Sales.

Owing to the deplorable condition of the roads, high water and the inclement weather, the amount of stock on hand at Hazel Green last Wednesday was less than the demand. A good crowd, however, was in attendance, and all stock sold brought good prices. Below we append a list of that which changed hands, and the amount realized:

General Campbell to R. D. Motley, 1 mare, $70.75

James Davis to R. D. Motley, 1 cow and calf, 25.75

John W. Day to Wm. Gilmore, 1 heifer, 12.00

Same to Isaac Rose, 1 heifer, 11.05

Isaac Rose to R. M. Piaratt, 1 yoke of oxen, 96.25

Clay Rose to John D. Rose, 1 yoke oxen, 50.00

W. C. Perkins to Isaac Rose, 1 yoke oxen, 35.00

John Campbell to G. B. Swango, 1 cow, 22.50

Wiley Arnett to J. T. & F. Day, 2 yoke oxen, 150.00

Same to same, 2 yoke oxen, 50.00

Same to same, 2 yoke oxen, 35.00

Same to same, 1 cow, 25.00

G. W. Hammons & Son to J. T. & F. Day, 6 steers, 160.00

Same to same, 1 cow, 8.00

G. W. Hammons, Jr., to J. T. & F. Day, 2 steers, 75.00

W. B. Allen to J. T. & F. Day, 2 yoke oxen, 140.00

Same to same, 4 yoke old heifers, 35.00

Same to same, 2 cows, 40.00

J. W. Day to J. T. & F. Day, 1 2-year old heifer, 12.00

J. H. Amyx to J. T. & F. Day, 4 yoke old steers, 95.00

Total, $1,174.50

The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen, speaking of the railroad meeting at that place, says: "Judge Bush made a plain dispassionate setting forth of the need for the Frankfort, Georgetown and Paris railroad. Frankfort must have it or be side-tracked. The line is to extend through Georgetown, North Middletown, Mt. Sterling, Hazel Green, Salsville to Prestonsburg. A committee was appointed to confer with committees from the other counties interested on the 23rd of February, to consult as to the best manner of putting the subject before the people." In next week's issue we hope to give our readers definite information in regard to this road, and be able to show them that inside of two years the "toot" of the locomotive will be heard in Hazel Green. So note it be.

Rev. Mr. Hubert, who is stationed at Jackson as assistant pastor of the work of the M. E. Church South, and who has been visiting relatives and friends in the South for about two months, arrived here last Wednesday afternoon and preached in the M. E. Church that night.

Miss Dora Snowden, the little daughter of John M. Snowden, of Jackson, who accompanied Mr. Hubert on his Southern tour, returned with him, and was delighted with her trip and loth to return. They left for Jackson Thursday morning.

Read the card of W. E. Word, who is representing Adams Bros. & Co., dealers in stoves and tinware, Louisville, Ky., which appears in this issue of our paper. Mr. Word has been traveling through this section a long time, and has built up a good trade in his business. He is straight in all his dealings, and our merchants will find his goods just as represented, while he will make prices the lowest. Give Word a trial, and our word for it, you will never regret having done so.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Sewell Combs, of Campton, has converted his dwelling into a house of entertainment for the accommodation of the traveling public visiting that place. Those who have stopped with Mr. Combs heretofore speak in highest terms of the accommodations, and to all who visit our sister town in future, we can say that if you wish the comforts of a home, stop with Sewell Combs at the Combs House.

E. S. Sample, of this county, a few days since showed us a model of a harrow which he contemplates having patented. It consists of a circle with teeth, to which is attached a pivotal beam. The advantages claimed for it over the old fashioned harrow are, that continually revolving it will lighten the draught and swing past obstructions striking it without stopping the team.

The dank and decaying vegetation of regions newly cleared of timber, exposed to the rays of the sun, is sure to breed malaria. Dr. J. H. McLean's Chills and Fever Cure, by mild and gentle action will radically cure. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green, and J. N. Vaughn, Campton.

"THE SONGSTER OF SWIFT'S CAMP GROVES"

Warbles Another Sweet Warble Intended for the Special Edition of

EDITOR HERALD:—A short time since, in response to an article in The Gem, which was inserted in the Herald, and unjust insinuations against Campton, we wrote a little piece to THE HERALD in defence of Campton and her citizens, and last week the Gem man, who seems to have been aroused from his inertness and lethargy by the warbling of one of the feathered tribe whom he describes as being a "Byrd of more than one feather," comes rushing down upon us from his lofty habitation like a "whirlwind" or a "conglomerated" mess of "incongruous" slang and sonorous words, and shows us under so deep that it would take something like the bugle notes of Gabriel's trumpet to resurrect us. He says, or rather insinuates, that he, his town, and his Gem (a rich Gem) in all of their imaginary greatness and real littleness, can withstand such attacks without faltering, but he says, "What is Hazel Green, poor insignificant Hazel Green, to do? Why does she slings at her?" trying to make the false impression that we were making war on Hazel Green. We never said a word against her. She, it is true, is one of our county towns, and one of which we are a citizen of Wolfe county feel proud, yet we feel, aside from selfish motives or personal interests, that to remove the county seat from Campton, nearly the central point of the county in regard to territory, wealth and population to Hazel Green, "a place only ten miles away," which is near the margin of the county, would be doing a palpable wrong, and a cruel injustice to a majority of the citizens of the county. He talks of the absurdity of calling Campton a town, and says that it would be similar to christening a coach empty space and giving it a local habitation. He talks of "airy nothing." We have often heard of airy nothing, but never knew just exactly what was meant by it until a few years ago when we met the editor of the Gem, and in him we found a very striking illustration. We found in him the very personification of "airy nothing." The gentleman, feeling that we would not get to see his article, (and owing to the limited circulation of his paper his fears were well founded) he sent us a copy of his paper. We were obliged to him, and hope that his paper, if of not much interest, will be at least of some utility. We think he acted wisely in sending his article to THE HERALD, since this is his only sure way of having the public to know anything of his views in regard to matters except he send them all a SPECIAL COPY. By the way, since it occurs to our mind, we will say to the gentleman that we are much obliged to him for writing his first piece. Its effect reminds us very much of John Billings' saying about the mule. He says if you want a mule to stay in the lot, must turn him in an adjoining one and let him jump in. From our experience we learn that if you want to carry a point, get the Gem man to oppose it and it is done. He said that the Gem man of Campton as town builders are dead failures. The gentleman hasn't been in our town for a considerable length of time, and from what he says of it, when he was here, he has been like John on the Isle of Pines; he must have been in the spirit, or had the spirit in him. Let us take a Byrd's-eye view of West Liberty, and learn of its past history. West Liberty possessed such a "spirit of improvement" and "public enterprise," that the lapse of fifteen long years previous to 1870 brought about the erection of two new buildings. Four years ago she had no church house, and no school buildings, though she was perhaps sixty-five years old, and would not have had any to do with it, had not the ladies of the county said to the people of the town, "You can no longer use our court-house for church and school purposes" and locked the door against them, and such was the spirit of "progress and improvement" that they were driven to the painful necessity of erecting one or two new public buildings. He boasts of the improvement of Hazel Green, but of his own town he can say but little. In defence of some of our enterprising men, lest the Gem might fall into the hands of some one who might misrepresent us, we will give a short sketch of Campton and its improvements. Within the last four years there has been erected in Campton twenty-six new buildings, an account of the facilities for building. Mr. G. T. Center, who may be called the builder of Campton, has furnished building material for Hazel Green, Ezel, Frenchburg and Jackson, and has now enough material on hand to build the Gem man an ice house, so that he may wet his head and keep his brain cool, for such remarkable fertility can't be kept too moist. A. F. BYRD.

MORGAN COUNTY.

WEST LIBERTY, Feb. 21.—Your correspondent had the pleasure of spending Friday afternoon at the "Normal" which time was devoted to discussion by the ladies and gentlemen, and recitations by the little folks. It was quite amusing as well as entertaining to hear each of the latter so promptly respond to their call, while all the debaters acquitted themselves with much credit, and if one deserves more merit than the other it was New Cisco, whose talent for oratory is unsurpassed.

Mrs. T. W. Rose, after a protracted illness of pulmonary consumption, departed this life Feb. 16th. The funeral services were conducted at the Christian Church by Rev. J. L. Adams. She leaves a husband, three small children, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

The closing exercises of the Mountain Normal will be held Friday night, the 25th. Ashland Patrick, of Salsville, was the guest of the Morgan House last week.

John B. Phipps, of Mt. Sterling made a dying trip to our town.

Johnny Downing and Dora Phillips are on the sick list.

E. E. Smith passed through town en route to Louisville.

Madam Tumor says there is a wedding on the tapis.

Capt. T. J. Henry is in Fayette on business.

SNOWS.

WOLFE COUNTY.

GILMORE, Feb. 19.—Miss Margaret Calhoun, of Quickens, has been visiting her cousin Mrs. J. H. Vest, for a week, but returned home today. Come and see us again, Margaret.

Solomon Frazier passed here yesterday en route for his home in Breathitt. He was just from Covington where he had been sojourning since November last.

The commissioners chosen to divide the lands of the heirs of James Linden, deceased, are now engaged at their work.

John Linden, who has been afflicted for some time with rheumatism, is getting able to go around.

Farmers are beginning to fix up fencing preparatory for the coming crop.

Talton E. Calhoun was visiting at this place a few days since.

Mrs. Caroline Johnson is visiting her father at this place.

UNCLE REMUS.

Mass Convention.

In pursuance to a call by the Chairman of the Executive Democratic Committee of the 34th Senatorial District of Kentucky, the Democrats of Wolfe county will meet in Mass Convention in Campton, Saturday, the 15th day of March, 1887, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the District Convention of the 34th Senatorial District of Kentucky, to be held at Campton, Wolfe county, on the 1st day of April, 1887, to nominate a candidate to be voted for at the August election, 1887, to represent said District in the State Senate. This February 21st, 1887.

JOSEPH C. LYKINS, Chairman Dem. County Committee.

Attest: ISAAC ELLIS, Clerk.
